Dr. Barber's Diapent.

THIS valuable medicine is composed principally of Barley, to which are added grape leaf properties, it is when applied, not an-nally diffused through the whole of it, but is applied to the surface, and the action of it is so fast that when you will be convinced that this preparation over all others is the public's first choice, and the best for the cure of all perfect Anodyne qualities. Its use in cases is prompt, powerful, and effective, without any delay.

It penetrates the flesh to the bone, relaxes contracted muscular powers, restoring the normal condition of the system, and is a source of affliction almost entirely removed, therefore, hailed by the suffering as a great boon. It is a remedy which would be valued by the world, and it is a remedy which should be without this sovereign, and after it was once witnessed its magical influence, it was its own and its permanent cure, and inflammable effect, by actual contact, making it an assertion of its power, and its
